Education

Ultima is an online school in Brazil that teaches adults digital skills and helps increase their earning potential. Brazil has a huge shortage of IT specialists and a large number of low-skilled workers. None of the existing providers solve the problem in a scalable and efficient way. Ultima combines cohort learning with technology to make IT education accessible. Ultima is cohort training with individual accompaniment and career support. Ultima was launched in 2021 and after 14 months reached $2M ARR with a growing contribution margin.
